

Range of services

The consulting firm of Selting+Baldermann serves its clients in questions of financial and business strategy. Our range of services specifically includes: taking over the interim management of companies, e.g. as managing director or managing board member of a foreign company's German subsidiary, or of a company lacking official legal representatives; advising in the planning and implementing of financial restructuring; overseeing company liquidations (also in crisis situations); advising stakeholders such as partners, shareholders or managers in preparing for and undergoing the insolvency process.

In addition, we advise and support you in financing your company's expansion or other individual projects, while also assisting your firm's financial planning vis-à-vis banks and other partners. To this end, we can call upon our numerous contacts to credit institutions and investors, e.g. in the area of private equity. Meanwhile, the law firm of Selting+Baldermann is able to support us by setting up mezzanine capital structures, by performing due diligence, and by fine-tuning all the relevant contractual details.
